Insurte Partners with Oman Air for Seamless Travel Insurance Solutions

Today, Insurte announced a new partnership with Oman Air to provide seamless travel insurance solutions embedded directly into the customer experience. This will allow millions of travelers every year to easily get the coverage they need – without ever having to leave the purchase flow.

Thanks to a four-part partnership between expert players, travelers who fly with Oman Air today can get insurance coverage during the flight booking process. Instead of needing to search on their own, Oman Air customers will have trusted, reputable coverage available to them without leaving the booking experience.

“This is the kind of partnership that gets us excited,” said Insurte’s CEO Stéphane Jersol. “Oman Air is dedicated to creating the best travel insurance experiences for their customers.”

Through this partnership, Insurte works as a technological provider, enabling a powerful integration that isn’t just innovative in the Insurtech landscape, but also seamlessly designed. With its proprietary API, Insurte is able to equip Oman Air with a trustworthy, reliable technology.

“With our expert in-house team and more than 15 years of global experience,” Jersol continued, “we’re ready to provide a reliable, fast, and easy-to-use technology.”

By incorporating their technologies directly into Oman Air’s already intuitive platform, customers will be able to expect a fast, straightforward journey.

With coverage through a world-class insurance provider with local expertise, Oman Air customers can rest assured that they are protected by dependable policies against common travel risks like medical emergencies, lost luggage, and trip curtailment. This happens in just a couple of clicks.

Traveling comes with risks, and Insurte and Oman Air are committed to quality service and care, helping Oman Air flyers travel with more peace of mind, knowing they’re covered along the way.
